

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Allen Corporation of America's (Allen) Logistics Services Division (LSD) Awarded the Hardware Software Integration Facility (HSIF) Warehouse Operation and Integration Service Contract

Effective 3 April, 2018 Allen Corporation's Logistic Services Division was awarded a 12 month period of performance for option year 1 to continue supporting the Global Combat Service Support-Army (GCSS-Army) Hardware Software Integration Facility (HSIF) in Chester, VA. Allen has provided warehouse operational services and hardware software integration support at the HSIF since September 2012. Allen has received consecutive Exceptional Ratings from the Government on Contract Performance Assessment Report (CPAR) for providing exceptional Quality, Scheduling, Cost Control, and Management and for Regulatory Compliance in conducting warehouse and technical operations efficiently and effectively. This award allows Allen Corporation to continue support to the HSIF with Wave 2 Retro Life Cycle Replacement (LCR) and Wave 1 SSA LCR of GCSS-Army AIT equipment. This award is attributed to the success of the HSIF team and management on-site.

The HSIF serves as a U.S. Army distribution facility, an inventory entry and integration point for Army Business and Tactical Logistics Information Systems. The services provided include: initial equipment receipt, equipment storage, stock and inventory control, kitting (hardware integration), configuration control, hardware testing, software integration, configuration management, diagnostic testing, component replacement of computer hardware and peripherals, Automatic Identification Technology/Radio Frequency Identification integration, software loading, functional testing, application of software patches/security updates, software duplication and worldwide distribution, system and component accountability, packaging and packing and Property Book equipment transfers for worldwide shipping.
